MASTER’S AND DOCTORAL PROGRAMS
OUTCOMES SUMMARY – CLASS OF 2020

Outcomes data for the Saint Joseph’s University Class of 2020 were obtained through a survey of graduates who received master’s and doctoral degrees between September 2019 and June 2020. The survey was conducted between September 2019 and December 2020 by the Career Development Center. Of the 1038 master’s and doctoral degree recipients, information was gathered on 592 graduates representing 57% of the graduating class.

- 97% of graduates are employed, pursuing additional education and/or serving in full-time volunteer programs or in the military. 93% of graduates are employed full-time. Those seeking employment totaled 3%.
- The vast majority of graduates from graduate degree programs (93%) reported working full-time in a wide variety of industries, the most common being:
  - Healthcare (21%)
  - K-12 Education (14%)
  - Food & Beverage (4%)
  - Pharmaceuticals (4%)
  - Investment Banking (4%)
  - Higher Education (3%)
  - Commercial Banking & Credit (3%)
  - Insurance (3%)
  - Government - Local, State, Federal (3%)

- The average reported base salary for master’s and doctoral degree program graduates of 2020 was $69,975. The average reported bonus was $7,700.
- For graduates of the Graduate Business programs the reported average base salary was $84,644.
- For graduates of Graduate Arts & Sciences programs, the reported average base salary was $56,393.
- For graduates of Graduate Health Studies and Education programs, the reported average base salary was $54,074.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Employers of Master's and Doctoral Programs Graduates (partial list)</th>
<th>How the Class of 2020 Obtained Full-Time Employment: Top Resources</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>