The Wall Street Trading Room will again be sponsoring “The Hawk Portfolio Competition.” This competition gives participants an opportunity to learn about investing in a fun, risk-free way. The exciting news for this fall is that the competition will use EquitySim.com. The added benefits of this site are:

- Live pricing
- Options, Bonds & Futures trades in addition to the normal equity trades, and
- That it is funded by industry so the site will be looking at students trading to try to find good candidates for internships and permanent jobs for their industry partners.

Only students and employees of Saint Joseph’s University are eligible to play.

In determining the winners, the cut-off date is December 31, 2018

Prizes

A T-shirt for students with the best 10 performing portfolios will be awarded at the start of the spring semester
