

JASON BRENNAN

Board Member, Initiative for Family Business and Entrepreneurship

Jason Brennan is a co-founder of Stream Companies, Inc.

Stream is a full service advertising agency offering both traditional and digital products and services. With an initial capital outlay of $10,000 Stream got off to a modest start in 1996; Brennan was still a college student at the time. Since then Stream has experienced positive growth every single year of existence, including during the Great Recession. As a result, in 2015 Stream was named the largest full service advertising agency in Philadelphia and is ranked in the Top 5% nationally according to AdAge.

Every day is a good day at Stream! That said, the following are some of Stream's most notable accomplishments:

- Pennsylvania Best Places to Work (2014)
- Inc. Magazine 500/5000 Winner (awarded 9x - highest rank #433)
- Philly 100 Winner (awarded 7x)
- 40 Under 40 – Philadelphia Business Journal (2011)
- Future 50 recipient – Smart CEO Magazine (awarded 3x)

Outside of Stream, Brennan sat on the Board of Key Impact Sales & Systems, a national foodservice brokerage company. As an active alumnus at Saint Joseph's University, Brennan has participated in several alumni and advisory boards. Additionally, he has participated in funding two start-up firms in the social and mobile technology sectors.

Along with his wonderful wife and two children, he lives and participates in the West Chester, PA community. He is a Board Member for the Friends of Saint Malachy that supports the parish and school located in North Philadelphia. He is also closely affiliated with Chester County Down Syndrome Interest Group. Both of these organizations, and the people they represent, inspire him daily.
