

PETER HAAS

Board Member, Initiative for Family Business and Entrepreneurship

Peter Haas currently participates in the William Penn Foundation's Fellowship program, established to maintain and encourage the continued involvement and leadership of Haas family members in the Foundation's important work. He works with the Great Learning program team managing a portfolio of data-driven grants that cover the educational spectrum. Peter will also work in other areas of the Foundation including investments and administration as well as operations and communications.

Prior to joining the Foundation in 2014, Peter taught at Western Reserve Academy in Hudson, OH and most recently at Simon Gratz Mastery Charter School in North Philadelphia. Peter has tutored over the years at both the Yale Academy of Upper Darby and The International Centre. Before his career in academia, Peter held several investment internships in New York City for companies including UBS Wealth Management and the EIM Group.

A Philadelphia-area native, Peter received his M.S.Ed. from the University of Pennsylvania's Graduate School of Education and a B.A. in history from Wheaton College in Norton, MA.
